Virtual Summer School 2021 is open for registration!

Four Sessions. Fantastic Faculty. Fresh Discussions.

Want unlimited access to the highly esteemed content of Summer School, all from the comfort of your home, office, or wherever you choose to participate? Now's your chance to engage and gain the latest and greatest information from the highest-ranking Summer School topics.

For the second year in a row, this course will allow you to interact in real-time with experts from previous Summer School courses and your colleagues in the global GI community. It will offer many opportunities to contribute, raise questions and impact the discussion, all via our innovative virtual platform.

The Virtual Summer School has no selection criteria, so soon as you have registered, you'll automatically have access to the virtual course when it goes live!

Introducing our Masterclass on Chronic Pancreatitis: A multidisciplinary online & face-to-face experience

If you enjoy exclusive content and are a clinician with specific interest in chronic pancreatitis, we encourage you to apply for UEG's unique, first of its kind, multidisciplinary initiative – the Masterclass.

It is our pleasure to bring you the best of both worlds, with a dynamic online learning phase throughout November, and then a stimulating face-to-face course December 2 – 3.

Both case-based educational phases (online and in-person) will provide opportunities to:

- Gain valuable insights from our VIP faculty
- Network with international peers and world-renowned experts
- Ask your most pressing questions
- Sharpen your skills

If you wish to be one of the few, hand selected participants, we advise you to get started on your application today. The application is only open until June 30, 2021, so don't delay!
