

What are typical mistakes in liver transplantation and how to avoid them

The latest Mistakes in... article is live on the new UEG Website!

In this article, Patrizia Burra and Alberto Zanetto focus on liver transplantation, which is now a viable treatment option for acute and chronic liver failure whatever the aetiology. The authors provide an evidence- and experience-based approach to avoiding mistakes when managing transplant candidates or recipients, highlighting issues concerning alcohol-related liver disease, acute liver failure, sarcopenia, HCC and much more.

We hope you enjoy the article and like the new online layout! On our new website the Mistakes in... series has received a new look & improved navigation features, optimised for mobile browsing.
