

Play an important role in the digestive health community

Dear colleagues,

We are pleased to inform you that the following positions on UEG Council are open for election:

- Vice President
- Chair Education Committee
- Chair Research Committee
- Chair National Societies Committee
- Independent Councillor

The positions are of major relevance for UEG's success and development, and an excellent opportunity to advocate for a good cause and engage in European digestive health. We continue to strive for equality of opportunity and inclusion and invite a diverse field of applicants to apply for these positions by September 3, 2021!

The elections will be held online after the virtual Meeting of Members on October 2 and – for Chair National Societies Committee – after the virtual National Societies Forum Meeting on November 12.

Rising Stars Award

The call for the UEG Rising Stars Awards 2022 is open until September 3!

Each year, this prize is awarded to the most promising, emerging basic, translational, and clinical scientists. It provides a durable platform for them to further evolve their professional career.

Support emerging talents in your society with an endorsement letter and encourage them to apply!

Add your voice in the fight against liver cancer

We help our Member Society EASL to collect statements of support for their Open Letter to the European institutions about improving liver cancer prevention and care.

By adding your signature and society's logo to the letter, you can give it greater leverage. If we can catalyse greater prominence for the liver in Europe, positive repercussions will be felt worldwide.
