

Curious what this is?

Check out our brand-new website

We are extremely proud to present you our new website! This project kept us busy for more than a year, we edited an incredible number of 123 pages and 187 articles, in total ~3.2 Mio lines of code were programmed.

What are the main new features?

Fresh design

The central new design elements are brighter colours and a powerful three dimensional model of the digestive organs that brings our areas of practice and expertise together.

Fully-responsive

No matter if you access ueg.eu from your desktop computer, tablet or smartphone, our new website will adjust automatically to your device.

One log-in

A myUEG account is your key to the digestive world! No matter if you want to register for UEG Week, submit an abstract or enrol for an online course, our new website will allow you to do it all with just one account.

Easy navigation

Our focus was on increasing the user experience and decreasing the content. We hope you like it and find it easy to navigate. Please send us your feedback or suggestions!!
