We proudly present: UEG Webinars

The UEG Education Committee is excited about this completely new format in which experts will cover new, hot or controversial topics. Tell your members and colleagues about the first UEG Webinar What's new in FMT? on March 3, 2020, at 20:00 (CET). Experts Georgina Hold and Josbert Keller will discuss with moderator Imran Aslam on faecal microbiota transplantation and participants can interact with the experts from their own chosen location. Registration is completely free, but spaces are filling up quickly!

Basic Science Course: More topics, smaller groups

We now organise three Basic Science Courses per year, with smaller group sizes and increased emphasis on hands-on training and interaction. Topics in June & July 2020 are

- Gut microbiota: relevance, analysis, modulation
- Basic & translational research in motility & neurogastroenterology
- Hot topics in experimental GI cancer

Support your young members and colleagues and encourage them to apply by March 6, 2020!
