Now celebrating 30 guidelines in the GI Guidelines App!

With many additions in the recent weeks, our GI Guidelines App now features 30 guidelines, and over 80 interactive algorithms and scores.

Newest additions to the app include:

Even more guidelines recently published in our UEG Journal

Can't get enough of guidelines?

The following guideline has recently been published and is available fully open access in UEG Journal: European Rapid Guideline on surgical management of

- Endoscopic submucosal dissection for superficial gastrointestinal lesions: ESGE Guideline – Update 2022
- ESPEN practical guideline: Clinical nutrition in surgery
- EFSUMB Recommendations and Clinical Guidelines for GIUS in IBD

And the great content doesn't stop there! We're already working on more items to be added shortly, including the ESNM guideline on refractory GERD, ESGE guideline on post-polypectomy colonoscopy surveillance, and ESPEN guidelines for clinical nutrition in liver disease and chronic intestinal failure.

gastroesophageal reflux disease – UEG and EAES recommendations

Watch out – the following publications are coming soon to UEG Journal:

- German Guideline Diverticular Disease/Diverticulitis Part I: Methods, Pathogenesis, Epidemiology, Clinical Characteristics (Definitions), Natural Course, Diagnosis and Classification
- German Guideline Diverticular Disease/Diverticulitis Part II: Conservative, Interventional and Surgical Management
