Keep up with the latest and greatest in science

Schedule your time off now, so you can join us for all 3 days of UEG Week Virtual! Packed with the most important updates in digestive health, showcased through our multidisciplinary programme, it will be one for the books.

Take a glance at the programme highlights. Benefit from the latest science, state-of-the-art virtual sessions, live hands-on and audience interaction and more! We'll soon provide you with the full programme, containing even more excitement and late-breaking science.

Registration opens August 10!
